DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-28, drawn to an electrode array structure and geometry, classified in class 600, subclass 382.
 - II. Claims 29-33, drawn to an electrode array obtaining impedance, classified in class 600, subclass 506.
 - III. Claims 34-41, drawn to a template with marker(s) and hole(s), classified in class 33, subclass 562.
 - IV. Claims 42-54, drawn to a combination template and electrode array system, classified in class 600, subclass 547.
 - V. Claims 55-64, drawn to a method of positioning and aligning an electrode array, classified in class 33, subclass 227.
 - VI. Claims 65-84, drawn to a method of measuring impedance and producing pixel plots, classified in class 600, subclass 506.
 - VII. Claims 85-88, drawn to an electrode array applying current, and measuring voltage, classified in class 600, subclass 547.
 - VIII. Claims 89-93, drawn to a system containing electrode arrays, controller, and multiplexer, classified in class 710, subclass 51.
 - IX. Claim 94, drawn to method of using an electrode array, classified in class 600, subclass 547.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Art Unit: 3736

2. Inventions I, II, III, IV, VII and VIII are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case,

a. invention I, as claimed, has separate utility such as measuring current and/or voltage. In the instant case,

b. invention II, as claimed, has separate utility such as measuring impedance. In the instant case,

c. invention III, as claimed, has separate utility such as making fiduciary marks for surgery. In the instant case,

d. invention IV, as claimed, has separate utility such as measuring impedance. In the instant case,

e. invention VII, as claimed, has separate utility such as measuring impedance. In the instant case,

f. invention VIII, as claimed, has separate utility such as measuring impedance. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

3. Inventions V and VI are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention V has separate utility such as measuring impedance. In the instant case, invention VI has separate utility such as measuring current and/or voltage. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

4. Inventions I, III, IV, and V are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process such as measuring impedance or creating fiducial marks for surgery.

5. Inventions II and VI are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process such as measuring current and/or voltage.

6. Inventions I, II, III, IV, and IX are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process to measure current and/or voltage.

7. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 3736

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

8. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
